

CODE OF GOOD PRACTICE

The Leeds University Union Postgraduate Society (LUUP) is a society organised by postgraduates for postgraduates at the University of Leeds. The LUUP Society organises a series of events throughout the year designed to help postgraduates across the university meet and network with fellow postgraduates, make interesting and fun friends, and have an intellectually stimulating and enjoyable time during their studies at Leeds. We meet every first Wednesday of the month for informal drinks, and hold regular events on the third Wednesday of the month. The programme for 2011/2012 is still in the making process, but few events which we have included are movie evenings, sports competitions, informal research presentations (given by research students), short trips in and around Leeds, global socials, and much more.

Our events are open to all students at the University of Leeds, and membership is available to all postgraduates regardless of race, faith, sex or age. The LUUP Society committee is made up of the following members: President, Secretary, Treasurer, Events Officer and Web Coordinator. Together, the committee is dedicated to providing both academic stimulus for postgraduates research as well as a refuge from the stress and isolation of postgraduate research through support group.

The LUUP Society will ensure that adequate and sufficient safety precautions are taken at all our events by completing a risk assessment prior to the events.

The LUUP Society will endeavour to follow the initial budget plan as set out by the committee at the beginning of the academic year. The LUUP Society follows the LUU social guidelines and code of practice.
